“It’s a beautiful city obviously. We shot it at night because we were looking for a noirish kind of feel so we wanted a gothic tone to the sequence. It’s an action sequence that takes place here. The town was incredible, the support was incredible. The crew just had a fantastic time.”

Joe Russo

Director, Avengers: Infinity War

“That Edinburgh is able to host this scale of production is a real credit to the city, and I have to say that we felt supported every step of the way by the City Council and its film office Film Edinburgh who went out of their way to make us feel welcome and to facilitate our requirements.”

Matt Jones

“Edinburgh is without a shadow of a doubt one of the most photogenic cities in the world, and not just because of the architecture but also because of how the light plays, which is very important in a film, and as much as it has grandeur it also has a real kind of texture to it, a real gritty street kind of feel, that, obviously, any story to my mind and certainly the story we’re telling, needs.”

Dexter Fletcher

Director, Sunshine On Leith

Why film in Edinburgh?

Why film in Edinburgh?

A breathtaking array of locations dating from the medieval to the contemporary. Edinburgh can also boast a unique geology which invades the city providing rural settings right in the heart of its urban centre, while East Lothian and the Scottish Borders offer picturesque villages, churches, sandy beaches, spectacular mansions and historic castles and monuments.

Why film in Edinburgh?

A highly skilled crew base across all departments – 30% of Scotland's crew base (over 300 freelancers, 200 facilities providers) live in the Edinburgh city region, including over 100 drama specialists.

Why film in Edinburgh?

Co-operation from the Council across all service departments. The City of Edinburgh Council and East Lothian Council signed up to new Film Charters in 2014 and 2015 respectively, confirming their commitment to facilitating filmmakers.

Why film in Edinburgh?

Filmmakers do not need a permit to film on public streets unless filming is going to cause an obstruction, keeping location filming costs down.

Why film in Edinburgh?

Excellent transport links. Edinburgh Airport, only 8 miles from the city centre, flies to more destinations than any other Scottish airport. Waverley Station, in the heart of the city, provides high speed rail links across the UK.

Why film in Edinburgh?

More Michelin-awarded restaurants than any other city in the UK outside London.

Why film in Edinburgh?

During the summer, the hours of daylight are among the longest in Europe and the quality of light is spectacular all year round.
